PRINTABLE INSTRUCTIONS

Matching Cards

Pages 2-5 are 3-part cards that can be used as matching cards (card to card) for a younger child (toddler). The cards can also be 3-part cards for the older preschool aged child who is learning how to read.

How to Use the 3-Part Card Printable:

This 3-part card printable is used to help your child (recommended ages of 3-6 years old) to become familiar with new vocabulary, visual discrimination, and encourages rational thinking.

What are 3-part cards?

To use these cards as three parts, print two copies. That way you have one copy of the original card with the word attached. Then take the second copy of the same card and cut the word apart from the picture. Then you will have three parts – card with word attached, card with picture only, and word card. The child can match the pictures and also match the shapes of the words. I recommend that you laminate the 3-part cards for durability. You can present them to your child while introducing them to a topical study or new vocabulary.

Fridge Magnets and Labels

These 3-part cards can also be cut out, laminate them, put a magnet on the back and place them on the fridge. Then the child can choose which facial expression represents his feelings/emotions for that day and use the emotions/feelings labels that are included.

Cut & Paste Activity

Pages 7-10 is a fun cut and paste activity for your child to enjoy. Have the child cut the circles with the faces out and then have the child glue the faces to the word circles. You can compare the word circles to the 3-part cards if your child is still learning to read. Or you can print two copies of the face circles and have the child cut one set out and then glue to the matching faces on the other page.

Stick Puppet Faces

The big circle faces are to create fun stick puppet faces. Cut the circle out and laminate the face. Then hot glue a stick onto the back. You can also cut the eyes out of the face so that the child can hold the face up to his own face and look in the mirror. Or play a guessing game with other children. The child can hold up the face and have the other children guess what emotion he is holding. Invite your child to try and make the same facial expression as the puppet face.

Blank to Draw Your Own Face

The blank circle is for your child to draw their own face. You can print this out at many times as you wish and draw many fun faces!
